

THE RUSTIC PLANK PROGRAM

Seven plank pavers. Five price points. One rustic look — $20 to $40 per square foot.

Rustic plank pavers for every design vision — and every price point. Whether the project calls for reclaimed New England curbstone, centuries-old reclaimed granite, quarried Italian gneiss, or zero-waste Heritage granite, none of the seven options below ask you to compromise on quality or design intent.

Photo	Product	Dimensions	Price/ SF	Color	Best For
	Reclaimed New England Curbstone Reclaimed — New England	Thickness: 2.5–3.5" Length: 24–84" Width: 15–18"	$40	Gray, Greige, Rust	Authentic regional heritage, one-of-a-kind
	Reclaimed Footworn Granite Reclaimed — Asia	Thickness: 2" Length: 18–72" Width: 9–13"	$35	Tans, Greige, Gray, Rust	Reclaimed character, easier install
	Reclaimed Rustic Granite Reclaimed — China	Thickness: 3–4" Length: 36–42" Width: 17–20"	$30	Gray, Tan, Greige	Stepping stones, informal paths
	Heritage Plank Granite — Buff Zero-waste, new production	Thickness: 3" Length: 48–96" Width: 12" & 15–18"	$25	Greige, Tan, Gray	Guaranteed stock, fast turnaround
	Heritage Plank Granite — Full Color Zero-waste, new production	Thickness: 3" Length: 48–96" Width: 12" & 15–18"	$25	Blue, Gray, Greige, Tan	Broadest tonal range, same fast supply
	Heritage Plank Granite — Steel Zero-waste, new production	Thickness: 3" Length: 48–96" Width: 12" & 15–18"	$25	Blue, Gray	Cooler, modern palette, predictable supply
	Pietra Italia Gneiss Quarried — Italy	Thickness: 1.25–1.75" Length: 10–24" Width: Random	$20	Tan, Greige, Gray	Reclaimed look with quarried consistency of supply

Smoothest to roughest: Footworn Granite, Pietra Italia Gneiss, Heritage Plank Granite (Buff, Full Color, Steel), New England Curbstone, Rustic Granite.

Talk to a rep. See it installed. Visit the yard.

yards@stonecurators.com | Groveland Stone Yard | stonecurators.com

Your Vision. Our Stone.

WHY THIS PROGRAM WORKS

The story behind seven planks, four sourcing methods, and one rustic look.

A common assumption we hear from designers: if it looks reclaimed, it's priced like reclaimed. That's true for some of our rustic plank line — and not true for most of it.

Seven products carry the rustic plank look at Stone Curators, sourced four different ways: hand-set curbstone pulled off New England roads, centuries-old granite salvaged from Asian village streets, gneiss quarried in Italy's Dolomites, and splitface granite milled as a byproduct of new curbstone production. Only two of those methods are truly reclaimed. The other two are quarried and zero-waste — priced from $20 to $25 a square foot.

There's a reclaimed plank look for every design and every price point — no compromising on design intent or quality.

Reclaimed stone carries decades, even centuries, of wear that can't be manufactured — which is why it costs more, and why no two lots look exactly alike. Heritage Plank Granite flips that: a genuine zero-waste product, milled from material left over from new curbstone production, with tighter color control and faster lead times than anything reclaimed. Pietra Italia Gneiss goes further still — quarried, not reclaimed, yet its natural cleft face and rust-toned patina read like a material that's already earned its age.

The result is one rustic, linear look built four different ways — so the plank changes to fit the project, not the other way around.

Seven planks. Five price points. One rustic look — $20 to $40 a square foot.

Talk to a rep. See it installed. Visit the yard.

yards@stonecurators.com | Groveland Stone Yard | stonecurators.com

Your Vision. Our Stone.